Your chamber of commerce may again sponsor a plan to bring about a vote on incorporation here. A meeting Tuesday night at Bank of America will likely determine the future of the proposal so whether you are for or against the idea, your expressed opinions at the meeting will be given consideration and you are sincerely asked to attend either as a member of the chamber or as an interested citizen.

With the summer season still at its height, members of the Truckee Outing Club are already hard at a program to develop a bigger and better winter season for Truckee during the coming season. These energetic workers are determined that Truckee shall be put back at the head of the class in winter sports. They are devoting time and energy as well as money to further their program and urge the cooperation and support of businessmen and many others who will gain materially through the results of their efforts.

If the unpaved portion of Commercial Row was surfaced and parking lines drawn, there would be room for between 10 and 20 more cars within the one block, it has been estimated. Parking during many months of the year is not one of our major problems, but during the summer months, we could well use the additional spaces which are now taken up because of the absence of parking spaces properly marked off.

Ghirard Retires From Garage As Lease Effective

Clarence Osborn to Have Charge of Local Garage

TO RETAIN AGENCIES Lease Effective This Week To End 24 Years In Business

After 24 years in the garage business in Truckee, during the whole of which time, with exception of the year spent with the army in France in 1918, he operated the Truckee AAA Garage, A. R. Ghirard announces that he has leased the establishment and will retire from active service.

The lease is Clarence Osborn, who has been associated with Ghirard for the past three years as mechanic and who has earned an enviable reputation in his craft.

Ghirard will continue with the Dodge and Plymouth agency and will operate the blacksmith shop in connection with the garage. The entire operation and management of the garage, however, including the AAA service, was turned over to Osborn Tuesday.

The same prompt and efficient service will be rendered under the new management.

"I'm going to take it a little easier and get in some fishing", Ghirard declared. "I don't mind getting up at all hours of the morning to go hunting or fishing, but it gets tiresome after 24 years to roll out for a towing job in the middle of the night."

James F. Cooper, Pioneer Of Highway Post Office Idea, Known in Truckee

James F. Cooper, a railway mail clerk, who spends much of his time in Truckee, the eastern terminal of his run from San Francisco, last week saw the culmination of his idea—the establishment of a Highway Post Office—fulfilled and was privileged to ride on the first bus carrying the post office on the west coast.

The route established August 4 extends from San Francisco to Pacific Grove and return. The trip was made between 5 a.m. and 8 p.m. and all first, second and third class offices en route were visited for the delivery and dispatch of mail. High officials of the service made the trip with Cooper operating as one of the clerks.

Cooper conceived the idea 14 years ago and introduced the first resolution in the country at a meeting of the Eighth Division Railway Mail Association in San Francisco. The resolution passed and was later adopted by the national association and other groups. A bill was eventually introduced and was vetoed, only to be rewritten and reintroduced to meet with the approval of the lawmakers.

Because of his vision and far sightedness, Cooper was signally honored in being permitted to take time off from his regular run to be on the inauguration trip last Monday. The first HPO was started between Washington, D. C., and Harrisburg, Va., and the second is from Indianapolis to South Bend, Ind. Both have proved successful and the idea is expected to develop. The trucks used are owned, operated and maintained by the post office department of the federal government.

Routine business occupied the fore part of the meeting and one new member, Andy Sorenson of Tahoe Vista, was taken in as a new member.

Man Caught Using Forest As Dump by Ranger Is Fined by Justice Smith

The drive made by District Ranger H. I. Snider and his assistants to stop rubbish dumping in the Lake Tahoe and Truckee area of the Tahoe National Forest culminated in a fine of $5.00 levied by Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith against Elmer Rouse here last week.

Snider states he apprehended Rouse dumping rubbish and garbage in an old dumpground and asked him to contact the regular garbage collector at Truckee and arrange with him to dump the material at the regular dumpgrounds where only a nominal charge is made for such collection or dumping, but Rouse refused the material to some other place after dark, which ired the ranger.

The complaint was issued under the Truckee Sanitary District ordinance prohibiting anyone but the regular collector from hauling garbage out of the district.

"Rubbish dumping in the National Forests is a fire menace as well as a landscape marring factor," Snider said. "Since glass bottles, oily rags, hot ashes, and matches are frequent agents of combustion in such dumps, we just can not tolerate such dumping, especially in view of the fact that both Lake Tahoe and Truckee areas have regular collectors who will haul away such material for residents at a reasonable charge."

Incorporation To Be Discussed In Chamber Meeting

Meeting Tuesday to Decide Upon Sponsorship Of Proposal

ALL URGED TO ATTEND Issue May Be Discarded If No Interest is Shown In Meeting

Believing that a great many people in Truckee lacked sufficient information to justify their confidence in the proposal that the district be incorporated, the meeting of the chamber of commerce to be held on Tuesday night will be devoted to the question.

Whether or not there is enough interest in the proposal to warrant the chamber again sponsoring the project or whether it will become a dead issue will probably be determined at the meeting to be held in Bank of America at 8 p.m.

The issue lost at a recent election by a rather large number of negative votes. However, a number of those who vigorously opposed the proposition and others who were indifferent are realizing the importance of incorporation and have signified their desire to be permitted another opportunity to ballot on the proposal.

The entire slow procedure is necessary if the chamber decides to sponsor the plan. The petition must be circulated and must bear the required number of signatures of representative property holders. This petition must be presented to the board of supervisors, a census of the district taken and the hearing and election called.

Everyone interested in the proposal is urged to attend the meeting on Tuesday and unless sufficient interest is shown, the idea, no doubt will be discarded.

CCC Chaplain to Preach Sermon at Church Here While Visiting at Camp

Chaplain Irvine Askine of Placerville will preach at the Community Methodist Church next Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock worship. Rev. Askine serves the CCC camps in this section and will be at the Hobart Mills camp over the weekend. Inasmuch as Rev. Askine is an ex-service man and has served as departmental chaplain of the American Legion in California, a special invitation is being extended to members of the American Legion to attend this service.

Board of Supervisors To Talk Over Protests On West-County Cantonment

The board of supervisors will meet Monday when they will consider plans for the military cantonment in the southwestern portion of the county. The government is asking for the closing of about 50 miles of roads in the area. It is stated that the cantonment will take up about four square miles in Nevada county near Spenceville and along the Yuba-Nevada county line.

Protests have been filed with the board of supervisors who will make an inspection of the area before making any order.

George C. Sellon, Sacramento architect, has been engaged by the board to prepare plans and specifications for an isolation ward to be erected at the county hospital. Tentative estimates call for an expenditure of about $17,000. There is nothing of the sort at the hospital and recently a young girl from the Indian Flat section had to be quartered in one of the halls.

Visiting Here—

Mrs. F. B. Weule, former local resident and property owner, is visiting friends here this week.

Missing Panel Truck Found In Parking Lot In Capitol by Police

Deputy Sheriff N. F. Dolley reported that a panel Chevrolet truck that disappeared from Frank Nease's Gateway Park service station simultaneously with Robert Riordan and $185 in cash has been found. According to advice from Sacramento, the truck was found in a routine check of one of the city's parking lots.

Dolley advanced the theory that the thief probably left the car shortly after leaving Truckee. The local officer explained that the law requires parking lot operators to report vehicles left with them beyond a certain length of time and it was through this channel that the truck was found.

Defence Council For Civilians Is Explained Here

Sheriff, District Attorney Tell Details Being Planned

NEEDS ARE STRESSED

Local Residents Called On To Be Prepared For Emergency

Calling upon the residents of the Truckee district to stand prepared to offer cooperation to the County Council of Civilian Defense in the event of an emergency, Sheriff Carl Tobiasen and District Attorney Vernon Stoll last night explained the proposed program to members and guests of the Truckee Lions Club.

The council is being formed under the direction of the attorney general and will be invaluable in case of an invasion by enemies on our western coast or by saboteurs working within the country.

Nevada county, with its transcontinental transportation and communication facilities, its valuable water sheds, generating power plants, reservoirs and other necessities, is the most vulnerable spot on the coast, the officers pointed out in stressing the potential needs for the organization being considered. An invasion of the coast would send thousands' scurrying to our region, Tobiasen added.

Sheriff Tobiasen declared that while the facilities of Nevada county for combating the evils of invasion or civilian panic are better than in most counties, the plans will go a great deal further and urged that everyone offer their moral support and if the need arises, be prepared for the part they must play.

The council will be built about the central committee comprising the sheriff, district attorney, captain of the highway patrol, chairman of the board of supervisors, U. S. Forest supervisor, state forest ranger and the county health officer.

Various branches or sub-committees will be organized and put into operation, Stoll explained. These groups will be divided into the following classifications with picked personnel in charge of each division:

- 1.—Law Enforcement. Including the sheriff's deputies, posses and other law enforcement agencies.
- 2.—Transportation. This will embrace public and private transportation facilities, where located, capacity, etc.
- 3.—Communications. Including telephone systems, both private and public, short wave radios and other forms of communication.
- 4.—Ordnance. Under this division those in charge will have jurisdiction over the guns, ammunition, rifle clubs, etc.
- 5.—Health and Sanitation. This will likely be handled by the Nevada County Chapter of the American Red Cross working in cooperation with other agencies. Housing, feeding and medical supplies for possible refugees must be handled under this group.
- 6.—Vulnerable Spots. A complete listing and guarding of the dams,

Smoker Fire Controlled By Suppression Crew Near River East of Town

The second "smoker" fire of the season yesterday caused some alarm near where the sewer line crosses over the Truckee river just east of town, Ranger H. I. Snider reported. The local suppression crew gained control and confined the blaze to a small area.

All fires in this district during the season have been small and quickly extinguished, but a close watch is urged and everyone is asked to cooperate to prevent fires in the forest which, at this season of the year, might result in great disaster.

PRIZE OF WAR

Although it was a prodigious gamble that Hitler took in sending his troops against his ally, Russia, the rich plum of Russian resources might have tempted a far less ambitious leader. A victory for Hitler will place in his hands a country whose area is one seventh of the earth's total land surface. He will find there every natural resource known to man, every type of mineral, fruit and grain, vast timberlands—of which Russia has one-third of the earth's total—hydraulic resources with a potential development of 65 million horsepower, 4 million square miles available for agricultural production of which only one-eighth is now under cultivation. Because a great part of these resources remain undeveloped, Germany has already organized a large staff of technical experts, administrators and engineers, ready to step in—come the day of victory—and convert all this natural wealth into a vast arsenal, nearly in exhaustible in foodstuffs and raw materials. Given the gift of time, German suzerainty over Russia would give both Nazi ambition and the Nazi war machine free reign over two continents, and doubtless the desire, as well as the strength, to conquer more.

SHIPS AND MORE SHIPS

In a year when the public has been jaded by whopping figures, the extent of America's effort to build a bridge of ships across the Atlantic has seldom captured the headlines. Yet the truth of the matter is that this country is now engaged in the greatest shipbuilding program ever undertaken by this or any other nation, a program calling for construction of 1,417 new ships by the end of 1943, or 6½ million tons of merchant shipbuilding in each of the next two years. This is what the blueprints ask. Whether the schedule will be completed in time is another question. But what is more than certain is America's determination to keep open the Atlantic supply lines to England, for over them move the tools, planes and weapons with which that embattled island is fighting for victory.

JAPAN RENOVATED

"Japan", said Premier Konoye, as Japanese soldiers poured off troopships to take over control of Indo-China last week, "must proceed on a historic renovation of its policies from an entirely new standpoint." Had the premier meant precisely what he said, a good part of the world would have greeted his words with cheers. "A historic renovation" of Japanese policy surely calls for nothing less than abandonment of her old dreams of conquest, cessation of the war in China, liberal indemnification for the damage done, abolition of press and cable censorship, demobilization of her armies, and wholehearted dedication to the principles of free trade for all, and respect for the rights of others. Unfortunately, Premier Konoye, we suspect, meant just the opposite.

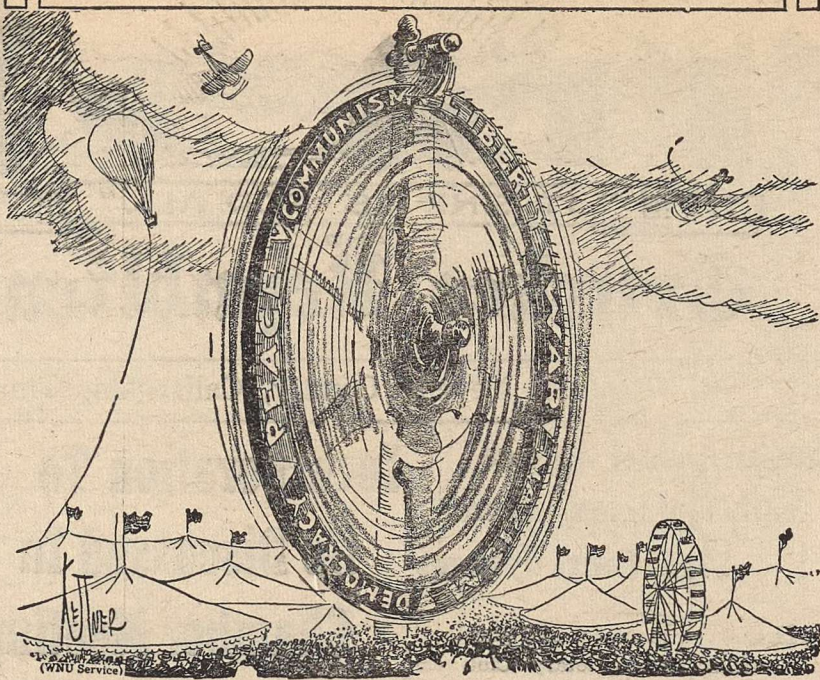

COUNTY GAS TAX SHARE

State Controller Harry B. Riley this week apportioned $17,808.53 of gasoline tax revenue to Nevada County as its share of the $13,413,447 record distribution for the quarter which ended June 30.

Riley gave the counties $4,471,482 on the basis of motor vehicle registration. This county's share was based on a vehicle registration of 7,661. The balance of $8,942,965 was deposited in the state highway fund.

More than 2,000,000 persons are gainfully employed in California.

"YES", FOR LIBERTY

It was an eventful day in American history when John Peter Zenger, newspaper publisher, went on trial in a New York court room 206 years ago this week.

Though the date is little noted now, August 4, 1735, the opening day of the trial, marked the first clear cut, decisive contest in this country between the forces of reaction and the growing forces of liberty. Ranged on one side was the stern autocratic tradition, hostile to freedom of speech and press. On the other side was the rising spirit of liberalism, straining against the yoke of suppressive authority.

The New York Weekly Journal, Zenger's paper, had dared to criticize certain policies and actions of the colonial governor. Publisher Zenger was summarily brought before the court on a libel charge. But victory went to the proud, bold voices of freedom when the jury voted his acquittal.

A strange, dark and unnatural land this might have been these last two centuries if that first contest between liberty and autocracy had gone to the freedom-haters! If the press, these last 200 years, had never dared criticize the people's representatives and government policies when these failed to carry out the will of the citizens. If the press had never dared expose a bad cause nor champion a good one!

But America and Americans weren't built that way. To cringe and scrape before sceptered authority is as foreign to them today as it was to that jury of twelve good men and true who, that fateful day in August of 1735, cast their ballots for the cause of freedom.

NO HYPHENATED AMERICANS

There is a mounting surge of patriotism in the land, born of war conditions abroad and the national emergency at home. As a result, new patriotic organizations are budding into life—and men and women of foreign birth, or foreign descent, who are grateful to the country of their adoption, are taking occasion to make public avowal of their loyalty to the American Flag. Last week, for example, dispatches from New York reported the founding by prominent educators, labor leaders and writers of an organization known as the Loyal Americans of German Descent, which plans to rally citizens of German ancestry to an all-out defense of American democracy.

We don't know whether it is necessary to form associations of Loyal Americans of German Descent, or Loyal Americans of Italian Descent—any more than we should form a society of Loyal Americans of British or Dutch Descent. But we are not opposed to any society anyone may form which gives its members a chance to renew their oath of allegiance to the United States, for we can ill afford, during this period of emergency, to harbor any hyphenated Americans, trying to justify a divided loyalty. But somehow we like the name of that new California-born organization, "Americans United." That makes room for all of us.

AN OLD FRIEND BACK AGAIN

America is witnessing an abortive revival of an old-time craze with a new idea—the chain letter soliciting defense savings stamps. The participants may have their hearts in the right place, but not their money. The letters are illegal, possibly a racket. Here's fair warning.

For our money, the U. S. Air Corps has shown excellent judgment in hewing to its program of building a well-balanced air force, undaunted by an occasional "popular" outcry for concentration on this or that type of warplane, at the expense of all other types.

Take the case of the dive bomber. Hitler's Stukas have electrified the world in certain phases of the European conflict. As a result, certain American critics, more articulate than they are well informed, have been demanding that we drop everything else and build a tremendous fleet of dive bombers.

To strengthen their point, these critics insist that our Air Corps has not any dive bombers at all, a claim which is 100 per cent incorrect.

As a matter of fact, the Air Corps does have a dive bomber—and a mighty efficient one—produced right here in California. Announced the other day was the initial delivery of Douglas A-24s—low-wing, all-metal monoplanes with retractable landing gears, diving brakes and 1800-horsepower engines which will certainly out-stake anything Goering has been able to pull out of his hat.

So, far from ignoring this type of plane, the Air Corps not only is getting a fleet of high-performance dive bombers but is planning to equip one complete combat command and part of another with the ships.

But that A-24 is designed to supplement the Air Corps development of a well-rounded bombardment force of sufficient numbers of all types of airplanes to engage any potential enemy—a program which will include heavy and medium bombers for long-range operations and light bombers (including the divers) for attack purposes and special missions.

From the very start of the European war there has been a great deal of popular misunderstanding about the uses and value of dive bombers. These ships are highly specialized airplanes which have proved effective against moving targets, especially when defenses are not thoroughly organized, but they can't win a war against a well-organized enemy. And they lose their value when sent against strongly protected cities, as the Nazis discovered to their sorrow when they tried to use fleets of slow, lumbering Ju. 87 Stukas—which had been so effective in Poland, Norway and Belgium—against the RAF guarded citadel of London.

Accomplishments Of Women's Club Told

by I. M. EDWARDS

In looking over the accomplishments of the Women's Club of Tahoe during the last 14 years, many interesting facts have come to light. So many things beneficial to the betterment of the community have been done by this small club that it is really astonishing to one who has not been familiar with their work. Flowers and gifts have been sent also to those in sorrow or suffering from illness, and never was a needy family in want which, when the appeal was made to the club, was not helped in some manner, if not by money, then by food, clothing, or gathering of fuel to keep out the cold.

The little club started out its philanthropic work in 1927 by sending $200 to the American Red Cross in San Francisco for the Mississippi flood victims. Their attention was then turned to the local cemetery which was in need of water to keep it green and fresh, so $150 was given for 1100 feet of pipe to carry water there.

signs of 15 miles an hour for the city of Tahoe and $8 was sent to the association to cover the cost of the signs.

In 1928 $10 was sent to the Catholic benefit. In 1929 garments were sewed and purchased for the Sacramento orphanage, $10 for material and $32 spent for 12 shirts, 12 pairs of stockings, 12 blankets and 6 sweaters. Four fire extinguishers were bought for the grammar school costing $31.50.

During 1929 charitable work was done at the Letterman General Hospital. Ten dollars was given for a new baby that arrived in town about that time. In September, 1930, the following articles were made and sent to the Veterans' hospital: 12 bedside bags, 11 laundry bags and 22 small bags. At this time also $50 was given to the Community Chest. A Red Cross chapter was started by the Women's Club members in 1930. Ten dollars was donated to a needy family. In July 1931 an inhalator was bought to be used for the benefit of the community by Dr. Petersen at the Tavern and stored in a handy place during the winter. This cost to the club was $195.

Again a letter was written to the motor vehicle department asking for speed limit signs through town and a danger sign on Dollar Hill.

On August 27, 1931 an unusual event took place. Mrs. Myrtle Huddleson was the first person to ever swim Lake Tahoe and she was in the water 23 hours. She was given $50 by the Women's Club.

In September, 1931, 12 bedside, laundry and utility bags were made for the Red Cross. In October of the same year $13.68 was paid to refill the oxygen tanks of the inhalator. At this time also the club became a Federated Women's Club which cost $25.

In June 1932, $10 was set aside to feed the unemployed men. For two summers the club paid Mr. Ehret to give the children swimming instructions. Also a fire siren was bought for the town.

In December 1932, $15 was sent to the Veterans' hospital. In 1934 the Red Cross chapter was dissolved and $41.50 was deposited as a charity fund.

On May 1937, $10 was donated to Mrs. Craig who was burned out in a fire. In September 1937, $25 was donated to buy books to start a library.

During the last few years, $135.00 was spent by the club for a fire engine and hose for Tahoe and $185 was spent for charity.

On April 13, 1938, $10 was sent to help the fight on cancer. In July, $5 was donated to the Sunday school for Bibles and song books. In September, $500 was paid to the Community Center for rental of the building for 50 years.

In July 1939, a request was made by the club that the Truckee checking station be kept open. During May 1940, $5 was donated to the Sunday School for a blackboard and supplies, $25 to the Red Cross, $10 to the H and W Club for its new club house and $25 to the Lake Tahoe Sierra Association.

All this has been done by a club whose average attendance at its business meeting through the years has been 10 members, although last year there were 58 paid members. We feel that the Women's Club of Tahoe deserves a great deal of credit for its work and accomplishments, and merits the support of all the women of the community who would like to join it and lend their help towards further commendable projects.

Work on Lake to Truckee Highway Nearing Finish

Tahoe City, Aug. 7—Work on the Tahoe-Truckee highway is nearing completion here this week. The last three inch layer of surfacing has been laid between Tahoe City and Rampart, and culverts have been placed along the bank side of that three mile stretch.

Crews resumed work on the half mile of state highway through Tahoe City on Monday morning. Fifteen feet of new pavement is being added to this stretch which was completed to a two-lane width last fall.

About a mile of repairing and patching is being done on the Truckee road in the vicinity of Big Chief Camp. After this is completed, state crews will begin repairing and widening the lakeshore highway through Homewood and about two miles south along the shore.

200 ENJOY OPENING OF UNION HALL AT NORTH END TOWN

Tahoe City, Aug. 7—A gala evening was held on Saturday night in the new Union Hall building at Kings Beach, beginning with a turkey dinner served at 7 p.m. Two hundred pounds of turkey with all the trimmings were served during the dinner hour, and 100 feet of table space was used in the serving.

Sam Goss of Lake Forest was the chairman on the entertainment committee, with John Loughlin of Kings Beach and Clare Austin of Tahoe Vista assisting. A chef and full crew of waiters were hired from Reno for the occasion and over 200 dinner guests were served.

Music and entertainment for the first two hours of the evening was furnished gratis by the management of the Tanevaho resort, while John Rayburn, proprietor of Buckhorn Inn, contributed his orchestra for the latter part of the evening.

The main speaker for the occasion was Harry Depoli, representative of the Building Trades Council of Reno. He discussed at some length the successful cooperation of unions in the lake region. Another speaker of the evening was Jack Leonhard of the International Labor Council.

The Union Hall was built and is owned by the Carpenter's Union local 2035, but is for the use of all the various unions having membership groups in the lake region. The carpenter's union will hold weekly meetings there on Monday evenings, while the Laborers' Union will meet on Tuesday nights. The hall will be available for organization meetings or private entertainments at all other times at a reasonable fee. Goss, who has been familiar with the construction of the building, says it has floor space to accommodate 125 couples dancing. The building is very large and entirely of rustic design, built mainly of local materials, and contains an eight foot fireplace of native stone.

CALIFORNIA RANKS SECOND IN NUMBER OF LARGER BANKS

California has more of the nation's major banks than any other state, with the single exception of New York, according to statistics just released by the American Banker, daily newspaper of the banking profession.

Listing all banks whose resources now total more than $100,000,000, the publication revealed that California, led by Bank of America, has 12 institutions in that major class. New York has 25 and Pennsylvania, in third place, has 11.

According to the published figures, Bank of America has retained its position as the largest bank in the country outside New York City. The data also reveals that in total outstanding loans the California institution leads the entire nation, topping the second ranking bank by a wide margin.

SACRAMENTO PEOPLE AT LAKE TAHOE

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Beard of Sacramento are registered at the Tahoe Tavern for a few days stay. Catherine Casey and Jane Adams were seen bowling there. Glimpsed at the fashion show given in the tavern were Mrs. Margery Hoover and daughter, Mrs. Noel Porter and Mrs. G. L. Siller.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hickman were dinner guests at the Tavern. They are staying in their summer home at the south end of the lake.

Misses Margin Hullin and Pat Strachan spent the weekend at Cal Neva. Also at the resort were Mrs. Charles Boyd and daughter, Roberta.

Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Pulford spent a day recently in Tahoe City.

Author at Tahoe Seeking Material for New Book

Tahoe City, Aug. 7—Joseph H. Hughes, whose name is well known among modern writers of note, is touring the lake region this summer in company with his son, Kenneth. With a well equipped house trailer to save them the trouble of seeking lodgings each night, father and son are vacationing in the way that suits them best. Many of their days so far have been spent with rod and reel along the banks of the Truckee river and in a boat on Boca reservoir.

One of Hughes' best known literary works is "The Unbeliever", which has recently been made into a play.

by HI SIERRA

As usual, the beautiful trout that school at the gates of the Tahoe outlet to the Truckee are the prize tourist attraction at the Lake this summer.

Here, where the blue waters rush and gurgle from the Lake and fade into the darker green of the galloping Truckee, the tourists and fishermen gaze over the bridge in awe at the "whoppers that got away". Many are the "oh's" and "ah's" from the sight-seers and fiendish gleam in the fisherman's eye at the many weight limits that lazily float in the clear water.

Five, eight and ten pound members of the Loch Leven and Rainbow families sway gently to the rush of the swift current. A crumb of bread or cracker, even a piece of white paper dropped off the bridge abruptly changes the tempo of things, however. Dark forms leap through the water, a dozen speckled bodies break the surface in swift attack on the merest crumb.

Here, indeed, the stranger gets a close look at nature in the Sierra, and from the number of cameras in use and the happy, interested look on the many faces that peer over the parapet of the fine, concrete bridge, this scene must be one that will be talked about and remembered long after the summer season is over and forgotten.

Although many thousands have stopped for a look this summer, there are times when this interesting highlight of a trip to Tahoe is passed by unknowingly. It would seem entirely proper if the State Highway Department or the Fish and Game Commission would install signs at both ends of the bridge to call attention to this natural display of mountain trout. Perhaps a description of the species to be seen could also be given. This could be done in a rustic manner, well within keeping of the surrounding scene.

Such a natural wonderland as the Tahoe region has much to offer its many visitors; it is too bad, indeed, if one of its most interesting features is missed by any of the guests of the high country.

Patrolman Makes Dash to Capitol With Stricken Girl

A rush trip from Lake Tahoe to Sacramento was made last week by Highway Patrolman Arden Mathewson to remove a daughter of Attorney General Earl Warren to the Sutter hospital.

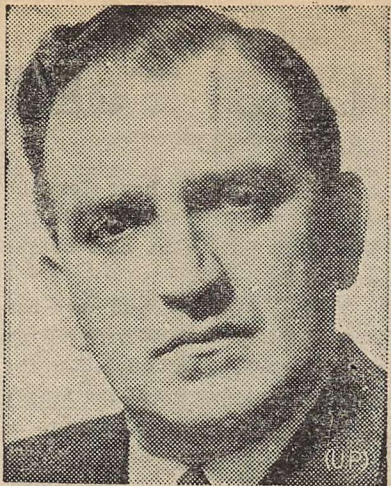

Miss Warren suffered a ruptured appendix at the lake where she was spending the summer vacation and was in need of immediate hospitalization.

North Tahoe Club Elects; Seeks Deed Enforcement

The North Tahoe Community Club now has a paid up membership of 81 and plans to do their part in making the north end of Lake Tahoe a better place to live. The election of officers for the club was held on July 30 at the Kings Beach School. Officers named were George Seymour, president; R. H. Welch, vice president; A. J. Ketman, treasurer and Mrs. Andy Sorenson, secretary.

At the same meeting enforcement of land deed clauses in the Kings Beach area forbidding sale, lease or rental of land to non-Caucasians was sought by the organization.

Seymour, reelected for a second term, said the policy had been decided upon and details are in the hands of a committee.

My Place In The Sun

by DOUG BARRETT

It was many and many a year ago that Bill Wilkie came to Truckee to go into business. I don't know what he thought about that first day he was in business or what future he anticipated. All I know is that behind him is a record of service to his community and family that would be the envy of any man. A member of the "do unto others" school of philosophy, Bill has been taken unjust advantage of by people he has befriended and trusted, but on the other hand he enjoys a loyal friendship from hordes both young and old and I'm quite sure that he looks back over the years with infinitely more satisfaction than those who sneaked away in the night leaving him stuck for their groceries. Mr. Wilkie is an example of a type of merchant who, unfortunately, is rapidly disappearing from the American scene—the independent, country storekeeper and the friend to every person who puts a foot inside his place of business.

One thing that an "outlander" misses sorely in Truckee is a public library and reading room. It is one thing that we need most urgently and it seems a sin and a shame that we must do without it. Towns smaller than Truckee have libraries which are a real credit to them. In Placer County, whose line ends about a mile too soon from the library standpoint, every place where there are 200 people—more or less and more less than more—there is a branch of the county library. Now Grass Valley and Nevada City, Nevada county's municipalities, both have fine public libraries and are to be commended thereon. But many of those opposed to incorporation at the recent election said that we could not gain anything under local government that we could not get from the county. I sincerely believe it is up to the people that made this statement to see that we get a library from the county.

It has come to my attention that some non-observant individuals in the Tahoe vicinity have attacked the Women's Club of Tahoe as a "do-naught" organization. Since such critics evidently do not follow the news of Lake Tahoe through the columns of this paper, it is useless to remonstrate against them. There are, however, two paramount reasons why I dispute them with vigour. In the first place, the spirit that has made Tahoe and Tahoeites what they are today does not tolerate nor actively

What Red Army Is Defending From Nazi Attack

This strategy map shows distances from pre-1939 Soviet western frontier, or "old frontier," to Russia's greatest centers of production—prizes which tempted Hitler to attack. The Sverdlovsk region in Ural mountains and Temsk Novosibirsk region in Siberia were developed by Soviets in last 20 years in preparation for war, and are result of fear and foresight.

HEMISPHERIC DEFENSE

—Passed by Censor, ALONG the coasts of Canada, in the far north, in Newfoundland and elsewhere Canadian soldiers maintain ceaseless vigil. They are on guard, not only for the defense of Canada but of the whole Northern Hemisphere. For the work they do and the places where they are stationed are part of the plan of the Permanent Joint Board of Defense which was created following the conclusion of the Ogdensburg Agreement in August 1940. That agreement calls for coordination of plans between Canada and the United States for defense of either country against possible attack. The photograph shows a typical Canadian anti-aircraft gun crew on duty somewhere on the east coast of the Dominion.

encourage mere "front" organizations. There are so many fine clubs at the lake that folks there—especially the ladies—would just not have time for an inactive club. Secondly, I ask you, with all candor, can you imagine any organization to which women like Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Hevel, Mrs. Carnell, Mrs. Vernon, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Swanson and a score or more belong, doing nothing? If you can, I marvel at your imagination, for their lack of constructive activity could lie only in some very fertile imagination—and no where else.

This column has quite a few friends I find. To these I am supremely grateful and if I please you just one little bit, then the effort is justified. There is, however, one lad who just takes pleasure out of knocking me week in and week out. These, too, please me and for a very good reason. This criticism—while it usually takes the tack of just plain knocking—sometimes carries suggestions that have wrought minor improvements in "My Place" and the criticism—both constructive and otherwise—is flattering because it proves that the critic is an avid reader of my humble (?) effort. Just remember that William Randolph Hearst is the most knocked about commentator in our times because he is the most widely read.

Mike Shattuck being the most independent dog in town as his boss calls him in vain (and several not so pet names). Harold Hart working like a draught horse—as usual. Glenn Robinson is looking better since Suzy and the Missus came back from Sac. A combination of worry and batching isn't so hot.

NEVADA COUNTY EXHIBIT WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD

Sacramento, Aug. 7—The bulk of Nevada county's exhibit at the California State Fair will be literally worth its weight in gold when the doors of the 87th annual exposition are thrown open on August 29 for a ten day run through September 7.

Summer Time

The temperature is up and most people aren't giving much thought to the problem of winter heat. However, this is the time to give a great deal of attention to that problem which literally may mean the difference between comfort and suffering, between life and death, here in the High Sierra.

This is the time to replace the outmoded and inefficient heating systems with modern oil burning units to furnish a maximum of healthy heat in the inevitable cold winter days ahead. This is time, too, to insure your winter's supply of fuel oil for the entire season. Then, too, this is the time to check your present oil burning units to see if you are enjoying peak performance from flawless equipment.

Yes, sir, now is the time for all good men to check up on next winter. It will be here sooner than you realize.
